Description

In excel file if there are two masters then we can fetch two entries from there but on moving forward we have to restrict user that only one master is allowed. He can convert other master into crew or passenger as per hsi choice and in PAssenger excel file - do not add dropdown option of master . Only can select passenger from there

And at the time of "Add New Individual" if master already added & adding new from there then at the time of save you casn ask "One master already added . Do you still want to make this Master" then on click Yes the other master should get convert to Crew automatically
